After many hours of study and deliberation we recommend that you operate the beach for the 1974 summer season with only a few changes being made, some are requirements by the State of New Hampshire. It is suggested that no major improvements be made this year:

1. Due to lack of time
2. So that the committee can make a continued study for the next year to determine what the town's needs really are.

The only way we felt this could be operated is by putting bids out for the operation to meet with your approval at the recessed meeting to be held May 9, 1974.

Whereas she in the past has set an excellent example of the qualities of honesty and responsibility and

Whereas she has conscientiously cared for many other children in our community thereby inspiring unusual trust in her from children and adults alike.

REPORT OF THE BUILDING INSPECTOR

Building permits for the Town of Chesterfield in 1974 were as follows: new homes—25, additions—14, garages—6, out buildings—2, remodeling—6. (total 53)

The total number of building permits for 1974 was slightly less than the number issued in 1973 (1973=60), about 12%. Economic conditions did not seem to hurt the building industry in Chesterfield as badly as in other parts of the country, reinforcing the fact that many people find Chesterfield a town they would like to live in. I believe we can expect an even greater increase in population as the economy picks up in the future.

Respectfully
James Shanks
Building Inspector

REPORT OF THE RECYCLING COMMITTEE

In anticipation of the end of lawful open burning as of July one, 1975, the Recycling Committee was formed and charged with the task of evaluating the feasibility of recycling in the Town of Chesterfield. Prior to the current recession, research indicated that recycling was both desirable and economically feasible. The recession has drastically altered revenues that can be anticipated from recyclables; at this time recycling would be more costly than shipping all our solid waste to Keene.

On the other hand, taxpayers should take into account factors other than those which are financially expedient at this moment. It seems clear that the future of solid waste disposal lies in recycling. Due to the fast depletion of natural resources and our reluctance as a nation to become dependent on resources from other nations, we must, as good citizens, preserve our precious resources.

There are, in addition, more immediate practical considerations that require the Town's attention. Our committee has been given to understand that the City of Keene feels compelled to preserve the life of its dump. As a result, Keene will in all likelihood institute recycling within the next three years, and Chesterfield will have to comply with regulations Keene sees fit to adopt. As a result, both the cost and the method of solid waste disposal will be fixed by Keene. If, as we expect, recycling is in the offing, taxpayers will have to bear the cost of building a recycling facility at a later date.

Management of the dump is a business, and must be approached in such manner. In the same spirit that we invest in the insulation of our homes to offset the rising costs of heating, this committee feels that investment in recycling facilities is sensible now, in order to save taxpayers the (probable) inflated costs three years from now.

In any event, the Town should not be deluded into thinking that shipping all our waste to Keene is a final answer to the problems raised in solid waste disposal in

ADMINISTRATIVE REPORT

The 1974—1975 year has been a year of transition. We are settled in our new quarters and have moved the affairs of the Union in spite of unforeseen obstacles.

The New England School Development Council has been engaged to study the business and computer aspect of our school operation and has submitted its report. The results of this study are currently being implemented as we progress to improve our management operations in major school areas.

In December the contract for the Cheshire Vocational Center was ratified by all parties concerned. Our high school students and the adults of the community will benefit from the greatly expanded offerings.

The Staff Development Committee developed and received approval of the newly mandated recertification program giving the local school districts the authority for total recertification. Our Staff Development Program will be integrated with district and school goals as a result of the committee's finalized plan. Staff Development is an attempt to provide in-service workshops dealing with subjects such as reading, media, outdoor education, computer, learning stations and career education. The in-service programs are derived from a needs assessment conducted by the Staff Development Committee. All the resources of Supervisory Union 29 serve as the cadre in providing instructors for the course offerings; Keene State College, teachers, administrators, business personnel, etc. All are encouraged to participate in the Staff Development Program of the union.

The addition of music and art instruction in our school is indeed a worthwhile experience. We are making every reasonable effort to comply with State Minimum Standards for Elementary Schools. We have not recommended expanded services due to the economic pressures. We have taken a positive step in meeting the needs of all youngsters in Chesterfield.

Mr. Holmes has been involved on a continuous basis in our leadership workshop sessions designed to provide direction for the Chesterfield School and for other schools as a part of the Supervisory Union 29. Mr. Holmes's input into the leadership workshop process representing Chesterfield has, indeed, been stimulating and productive.

The increased use of the Monadnock Children's Special Services Center is another excellent part of the total school program. The Center has added two school psychologists and a social worker. These specialists add to their current specialized staff and provide additional services to the children of Chesterfield, helping them to succeed in their school and life endeavors.

As we put materials together for this annual report, we are without the services of our Business Manager. I want to take this opportunity to commend our school board, administrators, and supportive staff at 34 West Street. All have displayed an exemplary "team" spirit.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

January 1975

The 1974-1975 school year opened on September 4, with an enrollment of 293. Currently, the enrollment is 300.

A critical needs assessment of the educational environment indicated areas needing attention. Primarily, the Social Studies courses needed a thorough restructuring and modernization to meet more fully the needs of all students in grades seven and eight. Consultations with the Chairman of the Social Studies Department in Keene were helpful in meeting this problem. We are now implementing a program which duplicates that of the Keene Junior High School, and the Chesterfield courses will now articulate with those at Keene High School. Our courses are partially funded by Title III, ESEA, another first for Chesterfield.

The Science classes needed much more equipment, especially in the metric area, to offer the students a more meaningful individualized experience in scientific methods. Steps have been taken to remedy this situation.

We are handicapped in every phase of school life by lack of space; room for parent and student conferences; art and music; counseling and evaluation; instructional materials.

This year the school has, for the first time a full-time Resource Teacher working with individual children who have various types of learning disabilities. By learning to overcome their disabilities, these children will be able to learn more efficiently within their regular classrooms.

A new part-time art program for the entire school has been introduced this year. The instruction includes the basics of form, line and color, develops a sense of aesthetics, and offers the children the opportunity to develop their individual creativity.

The music program has been expanded to include instrumental instruction. The success of the program may be judged by the students' enthusiastic participation. A spring concert is being planned in which our students will join those in Keene for a band presentation. The Christmas Program was an outstanding success through the cooperative efforts of the director, the students, the entire faculty, the aides and many mothers.

The Junior Great Books Program has been introduced this year by a teacher and a volunteer mother who have been trained in a special course offered by Union #29. The response has been excellent and at present our school is the only one in the district to offer the program successfully.

COED has offered to the eighth grade a program exploring the world of work which includes an interest survey and a review of the child labor laws. Local people in various vocations have served as guest speakers, including a former Chesterfield student.

Our activity programs this year include a school newspaper, arts and crafts, intellectual games, a model club, engine theory, cheerleading and twirling, and a skills session for the boys in which theories of team play and exercise are combined. Again, the faculty, aides and mothers are commended for their able contributions. Two students are sharing their skills and knowledge of engines mechanics and electronics with other boys in small groups.

The school expresses its appreciation especially to the Parents and Teachers Association for their contribution of time, effort and money to make Chesterfield a better school. They have, among other things, provided; equipment and supplies for the Resource Room; a table for the library; the handsome new trophy display case and Cavaliers sports sign; the girls' softball and hockey equipment; and the boys' baseball uniforms. They have also recently given the school an Audiometer for the nurse's office.

The school is now a member of the Connecticut Valley League, and the boys are participating in soccer, basketball and baseball. The Girls played soccer and field hockey in the fall, and, although they are not yet ready for League competition, they have played outside school in volley ball and basketball. The fourth and fifth grade boys and girls have their own intramural league in street hockey and volley ball, while one room has calisthenics and square dancing for the girls. The faculty, aides, several mothers and staff have given unstintingly of their time and expertise to help the school expand its athletic program. We are now using the Cafeteria, the front playground, and, with the kind permission of the Selectmen, the Town Hall for team sports.

We thank the American Legion for its Christmas gift to the school activities. The money is being used to buy materials otherwise unavailable to the school.

Much appreciation goes to volunteer mothers who do an excellent job staffing and running our library. The critical need of the library is research material of all kinds to provide the students with the opportunity to do individual, independent studies. A faculty member has given us an encyclopedia and a set of science reference books on the Junior High level. A 1975 World Book Encyclopedia has been placed in the Elementary wing.

Our Hot Lunch staff have provided us with hot and nutritious meals. They worked very efficiently and the kitchen and its operation have passed several State inspections with flying colors.

The loss to the school through the retirement of Mrs. Eleanor Fuller can be tempered only by her promise to do substitute teaching. We wish her well in her retirement.

Mr. Merton Davis, Head Custodian for twelve years, also retired in June. Certainly the building reflects his untiring and proud devotion to his duties over the years, and the men following him have continued to keep the building in fine operating condition.

I thank all members of the entire staff for their excellent cooperation, support and high standards of professionalism. The faculty are now involved in the Union #29 Staff Development Program to increase and strengthen their individual competencies.

I express my sincere appreciation to the people and children of the Chesterfield School District; the individual members of the School Board; Dr. Carmelo Sapone, Superintendent; H. Charles Larracey, Assistant Superintendent; especially to Richard L. Champagne, Assistant Superintendent; and to George Cass, Business Manager.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert W. Holmes
Principal

SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

1973-74

On March 1, 1974 Mary Lou Kelly became the new School Lunch Manager with Carol Riendeau as assistant. Barbara Dascomb substituted when needed and Marilyn Underwood helped to collect lunch money.

On September 4, 1974, the opening day of school, the price of lunch was raised from 45c to 46c due to the increase in the cost of milk. Low fat chocolate milk, along with the regular white milk, was introduced and proved to be a popular item. Applications were available for free and reduced lunch rates. We serve between 145 to 170 lunches a day.

We give monthly menus to each child and menus are sent to the Keene newspaper and radio station.

Government surplus foods were unpredictable and it has been rumored that December's shipment would be the last.

Respectfully submitted,

Mary Lou Kelly
School Lunch Manager

HEALTH REPORT

1973-1974

This school year the only health problem that arose was pediculosis (or head lice). Although this reached nearly epidemic proportions in several nearby towns, due to the cooperation of the parents it was kept under control and eradicated here.

During one week in March, absenteeism rose to 20% because of the flu.

The Dental Health Program was again a success with 77 children participating.

Routine testing for tuberculosis was done to 71 pupils and 38 personnel.

The yearly Public School Vision and Hearing Screening discerned two children with hearing loss, who were referred to specialists.

Physical examinations were given 57 pupils by Dr. Houpis; 19 health problems were found and referred for treatment.
